God's Garden Shed

by Kalie Bucco

Lord, here I am
Your garden shed
My doors swung open wide,
So you can fill me with Your love
And have my whole inside.

This winter I have been stuffed full, I really am a mess.
I need a thorough cleansing
And I'm here now to confess.

Sitting on my first shelf is A heap of ugly pride, And in one spot, an oil spill Where I have let things slide.

Certain places on the floor Could cause someone to fall; My righteousness as dirty rags, Is hanging on the wall.

The tools that You once hung there Are now all out of place I'm asking for forgiveness And a portion of your grace.

Please take away this ugliness And give me life anew. Please scrub and empty me of self, To fill me up with You.

Lord, here I am, Your garden shed, My doors swung open wide, So You can fill me with Your love, And have my whole inside.

> Theme for 2016: Humility

"He hath shewed thee,
O man, what is good;
and what doth the Lord require of thee,
but to do justly, and to love mercy,
and to walk humbly with thy God?"
Micah 6:8

Syman Stall

Signer #54: Lyman Hall (1724-1790) Georgia. Age at signing: 52 Occupation: Preacher, Physician, Planter

Married: Abigail; Mary (1 child)

Quotes & Notes:

Lyman Hall was born in Wallingford, CT, and studied for the ministry at Yale College. He graduated at 23, when he began preaching.

He then studied medicine, and set up practice in 1752 in Sunbury, Georgia. He became a successful doctor and rice planter. The residents of Georgia were sparsely settled, and felt a need for British protection; consequently, many were Loyalists.

In 1778, his home and plantation were ravaged and confiscated by the British. Hall managed to move his family to Connecticut until 1782, when he moved back in attempt to mend his fortune.
